Review Parade: Movement Launched by E. Dunn and F. O. Goodwin Develops Into Town's Biggest Affair

Connellsville stands for patriotism and preparedness, with no pause for thought.

Three thousand marchers demonstrated this to the other thousands who lined the curbs for blocks to witness the most impressive flag day celebration ever held in the coke region. It was significant of the times and a striking tribute to the nation who witnessed the parade in the coke region.

There were no war brides in the parade. It was no demonstration staged by munitions makers. Flag day was destined to be observed more generally than ever before, but Captain E. Dunn and F. O. Goodwin started the parade ball rolling, and it kept going until it almost got away from everybody.

For an impromptu affair the parade was never equalled. It had all the sweep of being planned for weeks.
It ran smoother than any parade Connellsville has ever seen. It was larger, by far, than many demonstrations of a similar nature. Connellville proved its loyalty to the flag.

A year ago such a celebration might have fallen flat. Reference by the newspapers to the celebration last year is confined to the statement that "in view of the serious crisis which faces the American government, a stronger spirit of patriotism than is usually apparent will impel the people of Connellsville to flag day." The parade was held in Washington, D. C., and there will be no organized observance of that day here, but there will be many flags displayed. There were many flags but beside the display of the national colors yesterday, they seemed almost insignificant.

The demonstration here was more significant than that held in Washington, although not so elaborate, and lacking the inspiration of being led by the President of the United States.
Connellsville has no incentive such as Washington derives from constant association with the gold brand and tinsel of the army and navy. The papancy of militarism, always on display along the promenade of the national capital, causes a more or less allegiance to the fetish of war. Here no ray of sunshine of Mars inspire a militaristic spirit. Even Company D, the first public appearance, wears the practical and unromantic khaki.

Without those attractions which so happily add the success of similar pageants elsewhere, Connellsville demonstrated that its patriotism is sincere. Its reverence for the flag deep seated; its belief in preparedness firm.

Just as General Leonard Wood stood for hours reviewing the first monster preparedness parade of the country in New York some weeks ago, so did the veteran soldiers of the Civil War, those silver-haired heroes who fought and bled that the nation might live, stood at attention on the Parnesse Free Library lawn as the pageant passed. Embodied by the years, many of them so near the final hour, the faces of the muffled drums and silver tones of brass will soon be heard, they hovered not as they saluted the various delegations.
America First was the keynote.

There were no hyphens in the line.
Men, women and children of German, Irish, Italian, Hungarian, Slav, of almost every other nationality, walked side by side. They were Americans; they demonstrated their allegiance to the stars and stripes, adopted 100 years ago as the national emblem of the greatest nation of the world.

There was no politics. Democrats, Republicans, Progressives, Prohibition-ists, Socialists; men of every political creed, took part. Religion cut no figure. Catholic and Protestant walked together. The parade was a striking example of the fundamental solidarity of the American people, for there is no melting pot greater than the Connellsville coke region.

If there was an incident to mar the harmony of the demonstration it was well concealed. During the afternoon some of the musicians confused their prejudices with their patriotism and for a time threatened to involve union rules on the bands which participated, but this was so quickly blanketed that few even heard of it.

The parade was not without sacrifice. One musician who has a steady engagement at a pleasure park hired a substitute in order that he might give his services to the flag day celebration for nothing. The owners of the hundred automobiles gave something, for there is nothing so hard on a machine as an hour or

FLAG DAY NOT RECOGNIZED IN
THE COUNTY SEAT

Poor old Uniontown didn't know it was flag day yesterday until news of the tremendous celebration at Connellsville reached there last night.

During the day, a county seat merchant stopped a West Penn conductor to inquire why Old Glory was waving from both of the trolley poles on his car.

As of travel at a creep, for engines will start. Incidentally, the automobile division of the parade was one of its most attractive features. It was the largest turnout of machines Connellsville has ever seen.

The weather was fine. Showers threatened but the rain held off. There was a stiff breeze, and it was feared for a time that the performance might be marred, but there was no rain. It came later, and came with a vengeance, but not until all of the parade was safely home and in bed.

The six bands in line gave evidence of the true Americanism of the affair, representing three races; all anxious to do honor to the flag of the free.
The Connellsville Military Band, the South Connellsville Band, the H. C.
Frick Band of Lehigh, the Connellsville Italian Band, the Connellsville Colored Band and the red-coated musketeers from Dr. Spiegel's medicinal show were distributed throughout the line of parade. There was no lack of music.

There was no prouder parade in the county than Captain J. C. Herwick of Company D, Tenth Regiment, who rode at the head of the long line, ahead of the khaki-uniformed company of guardsmen and cadets, in command of Lieutenant R. S. Morton.
Along the sidewalks was another patriotic personage, prouder than a pa-cock—Captain E. Dunn, for it was largely due to his enthusiasm that the parade was such a big success. He and F. O. Goodwin started the ball rolling. Mr. Goodwin rode in one of the automobiles, his face wreathed in smiles at the success of the affair.

The city officials responded nobly to the call, the mayor and all but one member of council, together with other municipal employees, marching well toward the front of the first division.
Mayor Marietta in evening clothes and high hat, marched with City Clerk A. O. Bixler, who was simultaneously attired in faultless evening attire. Councilman John Dugan, Mr. B. Pryce and L. L. Johnston followed. Councilman J. H. Guyan was unable to be in line. City Controller J. Clyde Whiteley, City Engineer S. M. Foster, and Sealer of Weights and Measures J. S. Bryner completed the city's representation.
S. R. Menzies and H. L. Carpenter accompanied the city fathers.

Miss Emma Lou Gilliland proved an admirable selection for the honor of portraying Columbia. A girl in flowing white robes which accentuated her brunette beauty, her appearance evoked rounds of applause. Her much-admired maids of honors were Misses Mary Lloyd Stillwagon, Helen Schuler, Clementine Rottler and Cornella Adams. J. David Wertheimer and E. W. Horner, in evening clothes, acted as escorts.

About 75 employees of the Wright-Metzler stores in Connellsville and Uniontown made a splendid showing, carrying an immense American flag stretched over a big area.
A similar idea was carried out by John P. Trader and his Overholt Distributors. Clad in white, the 40 girls carried a large emblem stretched between them.

A squad of about 75 Courier newsboys, each wearing a soldier hat made of a folded copy of this paper and carrying Courier flags, attracted much attention. A banner bearing the inscription "Always for the Flag, The Daily Courier, Connellsville's Biggest and Best Newspaper," was carried at the head of the Courier delegation.
James J. McFarland, assistant circulation manager, was in charge.

Edgar Smutz and his small son appeared in line in Uncle Sam costumes.
The firemen had a float on which their miniature truck was placed amid a galaxy of American flags.
Other companies represented were:
New Haven Volunteer Fire Department.

Woolworth store employees, headed by Manager John Shea.
Connellsville Steam Laundry Company employees, dressed in white, riding in big truck, with Manager W. O.
Adrian flying a pretty silk flag from the driver's seat. The laundry horses were also in line.

Parochial school children, dressed in white and carrying small flags.
Members of Connellsville Lodge of Elks in an automobile, with a large Elk's head held aloft.
Westmoreland Grocery Company employees.

Young Crystal Ice Company force.
Young Brewing Company force.

CONTRACTOR PLANS EARLY START ON CRAWFORD SCHOOL

Contract to Excavate Site Let to E.
O'Connor and Work is to Begin Early Next Week.

B. O'Connor was yesterday awarded the contract to excavate the site of the Crawford school building on Seventh street, West Side. Contractor George Schenck of Butler came to an agreement with Contractor O'Connor last evening and the latter promised to start work next Monday if the weather permits.

Mr. O'Connor's steam shovel is at present engaged in excavating the lot lot adjoining the Methodist Protestant Church where an addition to the present structure is to be placed. This job will be completed in a few days.
If the weather is good, the school will then be taken down and the new one started in on the school contract.
One of the stipulations made by Mr.
Schenck is that the work be finished promptly, as he is anxious to get the school under way as soon as possible.

The further contractor has made a decidedly good impression upon those with whom he came in contact here, strengthening the belief that the school board got a good price and will get a good job.

Another step in the preparations for the new high school building which is to be erected at the corner of Fairview avenue and Prospect street will be taken on Monday when the county viewers will hold three separate viewings upon the Schenck, Showman and Freed properties, recently condemned by school board when no agreement could be reached with the owners as to a purchase price.

SECOND DEGREE VERDICT

Agreement is Reached in the Case of Oliver Foreingers.

UNIONTOWN, June 15.—An agreement verdict of second degree murder was taken before Judge E. H.
Reppert today in the case of Lanza Renz, Elmore Rensik and Cassius Smithwick, accused of killing Mike Damenko at Oliver No. 1 last March 27. It was evident when the case was called that no first degree verdict would be asked, for the first 12 jurors called were accepted by both the commonwealth and the defense.

In a verdict taken this morning before Judge Reppert, Frank Rice was found guilty of aggravated assault and battery and unlawful car and refrigerator, and the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill and murder.
Rice is said to have severely cut August Johnson and Tony Lucantonio following a christening at Maxwell works on April 15. The controver was over the possession of Johnson, Lucantonio, Jim Naldré and Felix Desmarco attacked Rice.

Fletcher Wethers, colored, was accused of a charge of entering a railroad car and carrying stolen goods, and carrying stolen goods, Captain E. F.
Ludwig of the railroad police was the prosecutor. He alleged that Wethers entered a car and stole shoes consigned to a Connellsville merchant.
The case against John Jackson for carrying concealed weapons, also on oath of Captain Ludwig, was tried before Judge Work. The man was acquitted, but must pay the costs.

James Barber, a negro, was found not guilty of a charge of carrying weapons and pointing firearms, on oath of Peter Jackson. The men are said to have had trouble over a woman at a camp at Dunbar on May 23.

ADMITS KILLING HORSE

Lower Tyrone Man Fined for Abusing an Animal.

Louis Ansel of Lower Tyrone township, this morning plead guilty to a charge of cruelty to animal preferred by Charles Wilson, humane agent. On June 12 Ansel killed a horse belonging to the H. C. Frick Coke Company by hitting it on the head with a hatchet, striking it with a club, kicking it in the stomach, and otherwise beating and abusing it.
Ansel at first claimed that the horse had gotten tangled up in the harness and so was killed, but he soon decided to confess the charge made against him. Alderman S. H. Howard fined him $10 and costs.

WAIVES HEARING.

G. F. Strawn Will Have Motorcycle Case Taken to Court.

G. F. Strawn waived a hearing before Alderman Eugene O'Donovan of the West Side last evening and gave bail for court. He was arrested for selling a motorcycle to W. L. Randolph, colored, some weeks ago, for $100. After the sale he made the machine is alleged to have broken down.
Randolph is from Vanderbilts and he claims the motorcycle was supposed to have been in good condition when he purchased it. Strawn alleges he sold the machine for $12.

Heads Chautauqua Association.
Rev. J. P. Allison, formerly pastor of the Christian Church of Connellville, but now of Waynesburg, has been made president of the Chautauqua Association of that place.

Cumberland Ambulances.
A movement is being started in Cumberland to raise a fund of $100,000 a year for seven and a half years to bring a $2,000,000 industry to that city.

PLEDGE SUPPORT TO MR. HUGHES

League Organized to Nominate the Colonel Stands by Ticket.

PRINCIPALS ARE CARRIED OUT

Roosevelt Republican Committee Convinced Party Nominee is Man to Advocate Americanism and Preparedness; Urges Support for Hughes.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Charles E.
Hughes, Republican nominee for president, here to confer with party leaders and to arrange plans for his campaign, yesterday received gratifying news in a letter signed by Chairman George von L. Meyer of the Roosevelt Republican Committee, an organization which, prior to the Republican National Convention, was active in supporting the Colonel. The statement delivered to Mr. Hughes by Cor-leau T. Neill, John Henry Iselin and Robert C. Morris, was as follows:

"The Roosevelt Republican Committee was organized to support Colonel Roosevelt in his advocacy of Americanism and preparedness, and to unite the Republican party upon him as its candidate because of his leadership in the presentation of these principles. The Republican National Convention has strongly concurred these principles in its platform, and the committee feels that the chief purpose of its existence has been accomplished.

"Charles E. Hughes, the candidate of the Republican party, stands upon this platform, and the committee therefore urges every loyal Republican and every citizen who believes in Americanism and preparedness to support him.

"The committee has finished its work, but its individual members will give their earnest support to Mr.
Hughes. The committee expresses its complete confidence that Mr. Hughes will be elected to the presidency in November."

Congressman Joseph H. Gaines of West Virginia, brought word that not only Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, but also General Leonard Wood are enthusiastic Hughes supporters.

Charles D. Miller's successor as chairman of the Republican National Committee will be selected in all likelihood at a conference here next Monday afternoon between Mr. Hughes, W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, chairman of the national subcommis-sion on organization, and as many of the other seven members of the subcommittee as can be present.

BASS SEASON HERE

Unfavorable Weather, However, Murs Opening Day's Fishing.

Today marks the opening of bass season in the state of Pennsylvania, but it is not likely that many sportsmen will go up the rivers and streams on account of the unfavorable weather.
For the Young river and Indian Creek have been made by the heavy rains of last night and until the water is partially cleared there is no chance for any success.

Many who had planned to go to Indian Creek valley today were obliged to postpone the trip. The season for all other kinds of fresh water fish also opens today. Trout are still in season but can only be caught until July 30.

MUST COVER PRODUCE

Health Officer Retzel Says Fruit Dealers Are Violating Law.

Health Officer George Retzel is warning fruit dealers that they must keep the goods on display in front of the stores clean and also covered with netting. Since summer opened Officer Retzel has been getting complaints about the way fruit dealers are having their produce open to flies and other insects.

A health ordinance provides that all fruit and other produce on display in front of stores shall be covered.
Many dealers have been seen personally by the health officer and if the law is not complied with arrests will be made.

FROM WRECK OF STEAMER, ASHORE ON PACIFIC REEF

By Associated Press.

EUREKA, Cal., June 15.—Five bodies have been recovered from the coastwise steamer Bear, wrecked last night on Sugar Loaf run. One boat was seen today trying for a landing on the rocky coast, according to a message received from the lighthouse keeper at Cape Mendocino.
Most of the 182 persons were reported safe aboard the tug Rescue, which went from here, and first advices were that all had been rescued.
The fog which brought disaster to the Bear continued impenetrable today.

The Bear, of the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Company, southbound from Portland from San Francisco, went ashore last night on Sugar Loaf, Cape Mendocino, and passengers and crew were compelled to take refuge in the ship's lifeboats.

COUNTY CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION OPENS TONIGHT

Delegates From All Over Fayette Will Attend the Two-Day Session to be Held Here.

Plans for the Fayette county Christian Endeavor convention are complete and everything is in readiness for the opening session in the Christian Church at 7:30 this evening. A novel plan was used in connection with the publicity work when representatives of the executive committee visited various societies of the county Sunday evening and extended personal invitations to them to be the guests of the societies at Connellsville today and tomorrow.

The Methodist Protestant societies at Mount Braddock and Percy were visited by C. V. Snider, chairman of the executive committee; the United Brethren societies at Mount Olive and Central Christian by Harry Restofski, chairman of the publicity committee; and the Brethren and Slovak Presbyterian societies by G. W. Greenwood, president of the county union.

Circulars, window cards, the banner across Pittsburgh street with its message of welcome, and the newspapers of the county have all been used to help make this Christian Endeavor convention one of the best yet held in the county.

The committees on entertainment and music have been busy and are ready to provide entertainment for the delegates and good convention music of the novel features in the way of music will be songs by the Slovak Presbyterian society of Uniontown. The members will sing in their own national tongue thus emphasizing the international as well as the inter-denominational phase of Christian Endeavor work.

The first session starts this evening with Rev. E. B. Burgess, Lutheran society, presiding.
Praise service conducted by R. L.
Werner, Lutheran society.
Devotional, Rev. G. S. Showers, United Brethren society.

Address of welcome, Rev. C. C.
Bryner, Christian society, president of the Ministerial Association.
Response, Rev. A. P. Hannes, Christian society, South Brownsville, third vice president of the county union.

"Making Life Count," Rev. Cairns, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant Church, North Side, Pittsburgh, ex-vice president of the Fayette county union.

Appointment of committees; announcements; adjournment.
The general public is invited to attend all sessions.

HAMMERING VERDICT.

Germans Batter at Key to the Inner Defenses.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, June 15.—The Germans are continuing the violent bombardment of the French positions north of Sou-ville, the key to the inner defenses of Verdun, the official statement issued by the French war office today states.
No infantry fighting occurred on either bank of the Meuse last night.
On the Vosges front some minor German attempts to attack the French line were made, but completely failed, according to the official statement.

Jones is Elected.

At a joint meeting of the school directors of Connellsville, Upper and Lower Tyrone townships last night, Frank Jones, former principal at Daver, was elected supervising principal at a salary of $125 a month. He will have supervision over 33 schools.

Suspend Operations.

The Lilly Coal & Coke Company yesterday suspended all attempts to resume operations at its mine near West Brownsville and will remain idle until an adjustment of the wage question is finally determined in the Pittsburgh district.

DEMOCRATS DECIDE TO WIND UP THEIR BUSINESS TONIGHT

Delegates Decide to Put Through the Nominations at Once.

A DEMONSTRATION FOR WILSON

Delegates Go Wild During Chairman Ollie James' Speech and Call for Bryan. But Move to Have Him Mount Platform is Sidelined.

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, June 15.—Still fired with the enthusiasm stirred up yesterday by the keynote speech of former Governor Glynn of New York on Americanism, preparedness, peace and prosperity, delegates today crowded into the Coliseum where the Democratic national convention is being held to hear more party doctrines expounded by leaders of the Democracy.

Eleven o'clock, the hour for the convention to be in order, passed with the Coliseum only partly filled. Very few delegates were in their seats and none of the leaders had arrived on the platform. The band entertained the small crowd while the rules committee had a meeting to talk over the proposal to proceed to nominations tonight instead of tomorrow night and Saturday as had been arranged.

The band played the anti-hyphen song, "Don't Bury the Hand That's Feeding You," and a male quartet sang the chorus. The crowd liked it and cheered.

The committee on permanent organization at a meeting meanwhile formally named Senator Ollie James of Kentucky as permanent chairman; J. Bruce Kramer of Montana, permanent secretary; D. W. Britton of North Carolina, permanent associate secretary; John I. Martin, St. Louis, permanent sergeant-at-arms, and recommended that all other temporary officers of the convention be made permanent.

William J. Bryan got his usual reception when he took his place in the press stand. Delegates and galleries joined in cheers and applause. A socialist in the band sang, "Wake Up America," the Preparedness song, as Mr. Bryan was taking his seat.

Convention leaders let it be known they favored making nominations tonight whether or not the platform was completed and the committee on rules voted unanimously to recommend to the convention that nominations be made at 8 o'clock tonight. The convention managers and officers of the national committee declared their confidence that the plan would go through. It was welcome news to many of the delegates who have not rolled running until Saturday. The plan to adopt a platform after the nominations had been made, as was done in Baltimore, four years ago, was counted out to fulfill the promises of the managers to the people of St. Louis for a four day convention.

It was exactly 11:45 when Temporary chairman Glynn called the convention to order. The delegates gave him a rousing reception.

Senator James as permanent chairman launched into his preparedness speech and it was punctuated with applause, and cheers at his references to Americanism and the achievements of the Democratic administration, and his denunciation of the Republican platform.

Senator James departed widely from the printed text, but the sentiment he presented was substantially the same.
When he recounted the horrors of war and the President's efforts to preserve peace, W. J. Bryan, his face flushed with emotion, rose to his feet and applauded vigorously.

Hats and flags went into the air.
Somebody cried, "Three cheers for Wilson." The crowd roared the answer. Stanchions were torn from the floor and a march of delegates through the hall was started. The aisles became choked because the demonstration was begun without organized leadership.

When James finished there were more cheers and applause, and calls for Bryan. Senator James appealed to the convention to quiet down and hear the rules committee report, but his efforts were futile until he announced that Mr. Bryan had left the building. That satisfied the crowd and they heard the rules report which provided for the nominations at 8 o'clock tonight. After some debate it was decided to adjourn until 9 o'clock, when the nominations will be made.

Children Operated On.
Ernest Krause of Berlin, 7 years old, and Emma McClintock of Connellsville, 10 years old, underwent throat operations this morning at the Cottage State Hospital. Mrs. Little Madison of Connellsville left the hospital today.

Concert at Shady.
The Connellsville Military Band will play four concerts at Shady Grove Park on Sunday, June 18, two each in afternoon and evening.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Philip Freeman Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, observed Flag Day yesterday afternoon at the State Armory with a program appropriate to the occasion. The hall was attractively decorated in the national colors. Four large flags adorned each of the three chandeliers, and draped on the tables were handsome silk emblems. Bouquets of red roses were artistically placed about the room.

It was the first social meeting given by the Chapter, which was recently organized, and virtually all the members, each accompanied by a guest, attended.

The receiving line was composed of Miss Clara Pritchard, Mrs. William Dull, Mrs. S. M. Foster, Mrs. Clarence W. Hays, Mrs. J. A. Lyon and Mrs. C. H. Wilson, the latter of Dunbar. Miss Clara Pritchard, regent, was in charge of the meeting. Following a brief talk by Miss Pritchard, "America" was sung by the assemblage. Miss Marjorie Woodward sang "The Garden of Love," and "Dream Garden." She was accompanied by Miss Margaret Lyon, Mrs. George H. Kramer of Uniontown, gave two readings. Mrs. C. H. Wilson, read the history of the flag. John Davis, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Sarah, sang "The Trumpeter" and "A Perfect Day." The remainder of the program was devoted to singing contests.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Flower contest, Mrs. Herbert Reiter of Uniontown; Mrs. J. C. Liles, regent, gave a song, "Come in the Garden, Love," and "Dream Garden." She was accompanied by Miss Margaret Lyon, Mrs. George H. Kramer of Uniontown, gave two readings. Mrs. C. H. Wilson, read the history of the flag. John Davis, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Sarah, sang "The Trumpeter" and "A Perfect Day." The remainder of the program was devoted to singing contests.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served. The favors were small flags. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. S. H. French of Uniontown; Mrs. George H. Kramer of Uniontown, the guest of Mrs. K. K. Kramer; Mrs. Howard Reiter of Uniontown; and Mrs. Wright Green of Vanderhill, guests of Mrs. John A. Guiler; Mrs. Mary Zimmerman of Mount Pleasant; Miss Marie Bell of Waynesboro and Miss Margaret Vertz of Penn Station, guests of Miss Margaret Lyon.

The seventh annual musical and reception of the Saturday Afternoon Club of Vanderhill was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Green. Mrs. Elizabeth Hazlett introduced the officers for the ensuing year. They are as follows: President, Mrs. H. D. Shallenberger; first vice president, Mrs. J. H. Hazlett; second vice president, Mrs. O. A. Koons; secretary, Miss Elsie Edwards; treasurer, Miss Carrie Dull. The president made a short address after which she named her committees for the year. At a short business meeting the club decided to hold a lyceum course next year as heretofore. A musicale will be held Friday evening, June 16, in the Christian Church. An entertaining program was rendered as follows: Piano duet, Miss Alpha French and Miss Ruth McGowan; reading, Miss Elizabeth Crawford; vocal solo, Mrs. J. S. Laughrey; reading, Miss Hazel Edwards; vocal solo, Miss Ruth McGowan. The rooms and porches were attractively decorated with cut flowers.

At the conclusion of the program a delectable luncheon was served by the social committee, of which Mrs. J. W. Madison is chairman. Guests of the club were Mrs. William Knight, Mrs. F. E. Ogilvie, Mrs. J. H. Edwards, Miss Grace Moore, Mrs. D. C. Foltz, Miss Lilburn Reed, Miss Frances Dayton, Mrs. B. F. McManus, Mrs. William Gillespie, Mrs. J. E. Kidwell, Mrs. S. C. McCrury, Mrs. Clyde Randolph, Mrs. J. B. Henderson, Miss Mary Henderson, Miss Hazel Edwards, Misses Grace and Nellie Snyder and Miss Ardis Edwards of Vanderhill; Miss Edna Rinehart of Farmington; Mrs. Myers of Pittsburgh; Misses Katherine and Laura O'Connor, Mrs. K. K. Kramer and Mrs. W. G. Leighty of Conneltsville; Mrs. B. L. Carson, Miss Frances Graham, Miss Eleanor Dunkle, Miss Eleanor Knox, of Star Junction; Mrs. O. S. CONDUCTOR GIVEN HEARING West Penn Man Arrested on Information of Trotter Negro.

David Pyle, a conductor of the West Penn, was given a hearing before Alderman Eugene O'Donovan last evening on a charge of assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery and willful and malicious destruction of property. The information was made by John W. Smith, colored, of Trotter.

Smith alleges that on Saturday, June 10, while riding to his home on a street car, he asked Pyle for 25 cents change in pennies. His claim that he received only 21 pennies for his quarter. In the argument which followed the car was stopped and Pyle tried to put him off the car. Smith refused to go and charges that Pyle threw his basket off, breaking and spilling the contents of it. Then Pyle struck him in the face three times, he claims, bruising his eye, and loosening a tooth which later had to be extracted. The case was taken to court.

DIVIDES THE COSTS
Trotter Man Acquitted of Attempting to Break and Enter Home.

John Rakos of Trotter was given a hearing before Alderman Eugene O'Donovan last evening, a charge of attempting to enter a dwelling with intent to commit felony, preferred against him by Geza Kosgur of the same place. Geza claimed that Rakos was caught in the act of entering but the latter proved his innocence.

He was returning empty beer bottles which belonged to Kosgur and the latter, awakened from his sleep, thought he was trying to get in the house. The costs were divided.

Oscar Baker, colored, of Wheeler, paid the costs in a case of assault and battery preferred against him by Mrs. Agnes Bair of the same place. The case was tried several days ago and Baker was going to have it taken to court but he changed his mind later.

GOING TO CONVENTION
Elks Plan Big Delegation to Baltimore Gathering.

Connellsville Elks are planning to attend the convention of their order which begins July 10 at Baltimore, Md. About 150 will go from here, probably in special cars. A Baltimore & Ohio passenger agent is in town today arranging for the cars, which will be added to Duquesne No. 12. The Elks will leave Sunday, July 9.

There is much enthusiasm among local members and they are looking forward to their participation in the greatest fraternal convention ever held. Some of the Elks intend to motor down. Scottsdale and Uniontown patriots are preparing to make the trip by automobile, also.

SOME BIG BILLS.

Will Have to Be Paid in the Fight Against Greensburg Water Co.

It is estimated that the fight directed against the Westmoreland Water Company by its consumers in Greensburg will cost $10,000 or more. Two expert witnesses have rendered bills for $4,000, the engineering cost $3,000 and legal talent and incidental expenses will swell the total by several more thousands.

The Public Service Commission has not yet rendered its decision on the questions brought before it during the hearings.

TAKES OVER LINE.

West Penn System Absorbs Irwin Branch and Assumes Charge.

A deal consummated last week gives the West Penn system control of the McKeesport & Westmoreland Street Railway Company, which has been in the hands of the receivers for some time.

The M. & B. line operated between Irwin and McKeesport, connecting up with the West Penn's Bryn Mawr lines.

Cuthbertson & Company store employees occupied automobiles, provided by Manager Ralph E. Cuthbertson. These were a mass of flags and bunting and every occupant of the machines carried one or more small flags.

The borsemen's delegation consisted largely of those from J. L. Stader's livery stable, with Mr. Stader, his son, Francis, and P. Bufano riding at the head. Leo Stader rode a pony.

One of the most patriotic marchers of the evening was R. Vincent Rendine, of Italian descent, but undiluted American. Mr. Rendine had his whole family in the parade.

The Great Spiegel, who is advertising his preparations in the rear of the Young House, entered into the spirit of the Flag Day observance by donating his colored band. The red-coated musicians marched throughout the entire route and played almost constantly. Dr. Spiegel made no attempt to use the occasion as an advertisement for his medicines.

More automobiles than were ever before seen in line in the city were stretched out over the parade route. There were at least 100 cars. Each was prettily decorated with flags of every description and the occupants proudly carried still more emblems. Some local effects were carried out in decorating the cars, one of the most striking of which was obtained by using narrow red white and blue ribbon over the top of the radiator.

Over 4,000 flags were distributed by high school graduates and other aides. It seemed that everybody in the city had at least one flag. One man said that he had never before seen such a display of the national colors.

The procession paraded the principal streets and then returned to the library lawn where the assembled multitude sang "America" under the leadership of John Davis. After that the Connellsville Military Band gave a short concert at the bandstand.

After the parade was over the little group of veterans who fought to preserve this nation during the bloody days of '61-'65 gathered up their camp stools and slowly walked away, convinced that in Connellsville there is no lack of reverence for the flag, and that the present generation would respond just as readily as they did if ever the country's call is one of need.

NINE GIVEN HEARINGS

Six Prisoners Are Added to the Chain Gang This Morning.

A five and six day sentence were handed out by Mayor Marietta this morning, one being for drunkenness, and the other for drunk and disorderly and resisting. Patrick O'Toole was locked up for five days in a cell and N. S. Jackson will work six days on the streets on the second charge. Five other prisoners were given three day street sentences. A $5 fine and $7 in forfeits was collected.

The chain gang did not go to work this morning on account of the heavy rain. After it slackened up, however, the men were taken to Mountain alley. Three prisoners escaped yesterday morning. Patrolman Shumaker had 17 prisoners to watch and when those suddenly decided to get away together he could not leave the others to catch them.

ELEVEN BOYS ARE NABBED ON CHARGE OF ROBBING CARS

Eight of Them Convicted at Mt. Pleasant and Put on Probation.

THE CASE IS THEN DROPPED

Wife Gets Possession of Daughter and Then Withdraws Accusation of Surrey of Peace She Had Made Against Husband; Other Notes

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, June 15.— Special Officer DeTemple of the Pennsylvania railroad, preferred charges against eleven boys ranging in age from eight to eleven years, charging them with breaking and entering box cars at the East End depot and aiding.
The boys were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. R. Walker yesterday afternoon and eight were found guilty and three discharged. The eight who were found guilty were put under the care of Mrs. Sara Chastor, the probation officer, for six months, and the parents paid the costs. De-Temple was satisfied with this and withdrew the charges.

William Henry Lakin and Sarah Agnes Hudson, both of whom live in the country near Mount Pleasant, were married yesterday afternoon at the Reunion Presbyterian Church parsonage by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Hartman.
Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, who is suing her husband, Frank Sullivan for a divorce, appeared before Justice of the Peace J. R. Walker and preferred charges of surety of the peace in order to obtain possession of their four year old child. Constable James Ellis went to Greens Crossing and brought Sullivan before Justice Walker where the Sullivan's settled the matter. Mr. Sullivan giving her the child and she withdrawing the surety charge.

Mrs. John Walsh of Calumet, has undergone an operation at the Memorial Hospital for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan of Hecla, are the proud parents of a daughter, born at the Memorial Hospital.

Miss Viola Stevenson and Margaret Fulton are the guests of friends in Pittsburg.

Rev. T. C. Harper will represent the local United Brethren Christian Endeavor Society at the annual convention at Philadelphia June 20 to 22.

Miss Cora Hohmann has returned to her home in New Stanton after three weeks of special duty at the Memorial

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, June 15.—Miss Martin Smith who has been visiting relatives here for the past two months, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. J. P. Smith of this place, left Tuesday morning for Staunton, W.
Va., Miss Smith's home.

Tuesday was Old Fellows' memorial day. Gallatin Lodge No. 517 of this place observed the day in a fitting manner in the evening by visiting the three cemeteries here and strewing flowers on the graves of deceased members, after which they marched in a body to the Methodist Episcopal Church where Rev. W. M. Bracken, pastor of the church, delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion. The Gans Cornet Band furnished music.

Miss Leona Martin of Morgantown is the guest of her grandmother, E. W.
Field.

Rev. Paul Elliot and wife are on their vacation in New York and Baltimore.

E. E. Jeffries of New Salem was a dear business visitor Tuesday.

Charles P. Barner of Millersport was a thorough visitor Tuesday.

Curtis Shaw and son, Wallace, returned to Bensenville and spent a day as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Shaw.

Mrs. J. C. Hoard and Mrs. J. C. High were Uniontown business visitors on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Stewart and daughters, Elizabeth and Gladys, of Donora were here for the funeral of Owen J. Stewart, the former's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Geska of Mount Pleasant are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Nixon of Water street.
Children's Day exercises will be held in both the Baptist and Methodist Episcopal Churches Sunday evening.
There will be no exercises in the Presbyterian Church this year.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME SLIM

A Simple, Safe and Reliable Way That Calls for No Drastic Diet or Tiresome Exercise.

Fat people, particularly those who weigh from 10 to 30 pounds more than they should, have been much interested in the remarkable reports that have recently been published of the manner in which weight is being safely reduced by what is known as the fresh air method combined with the use of ordinary oil of korein.

This plan, which is so strongly recommended and endorsed is very simple and makes unnecessary starvation diets, dangerous drugs, sweating or weakening processes or strenuous exercise. Satisfy your appetite with plenty of good substantial food but do not eat more than you need as this overtaxes your organs of assimilation. It is important to get plenty of fresh air, breathing it deeply into the lungs and to take with each meal a few drops of oil of korein in capsule form which you can obtain from A. A. Clarke or any good druggist.

If you have been getting too stout,

A NEW TYPE OF BOAT MAY REVIVE RIVER TRADE

A Self-Propelling Barge of Large Capacity May Figure as the Future Coal Carrier.

River commerce promises to be revolutionized on the inland waters of the United States by the introduction of a new style boat, which made its appearance on the Mississippi river a few days ago. This new boat is a self-propelling steel barge, capable of carrying 1,600 tons of freight, and is manned by a crew of 12 men. This boat is an oil burner, and is capable of developing a speed of 16 miles per hour down stream. It has already made two round trips between St.
Louis and New Orleans, carrying capacity cargoes each way, and its appearance has been hailed with pleasure by the merchants and shippers along the river.

For a number of years efforts have been made to supplant the sternwheel steamerboat, but no headway was made in that direction until the building of this self-propelled steel barge, which is now in commission on the Father of Waters.

It is the intention of the directors of the company which built this barge to construct others and to broaden their line of trade to embrace the Ohio and its tributaries, with a possibility that some day such a boat will be seen on the Monongahela.

The development of this craft may in the near future figure largely in the transportation of coal. The West Coast Company already transports the output of the large mines at California and Fredericktown in barges towed by tow boats. The Claiborne By-Product Company plan to bring coal to Clanton by the same means. If the new type of boat proves a success its use by these and other interests will no doubt follow in due time after its introduction on the Monongahela.

DOCTORS USING AMOLOX WITH GREAT SUCCESS

This remarkable letter, coming from a prominent physician engaged in active practice for over 25 years, proves the merit of this wonderful new Remedy.

I have used Amolox in four different cases with excellent results. All showed marked improvement from the start. Two apparently are cured, the skin being free from scales and redness, and perfectly normal.

I consider Amolox a remedy of rare merit. I know of nothing in the modern text-books that equals it in therapeutic value.

H. R. Hills, M. D., Youngstown, O.
Pimples on the face, blackheads, Acne and all minor skin troubles yield quickly to the use of the Amolox Ointment. Sufferers of Eczema, Psoriasis, Tetter, Salt Rheum, and had chronic cases of skin diseases lasting for years, should use both the Ointment and Solution to effect a cure.

Hill Tops Win.

The West Side Hill Tops defeated the Dutch Bottom aggregation Tuesday evening 3-6. Dutch Bottom took honors in the first part of the game and it looked like things were sewed up. In the last two innings, however, the West Side bunched its hits, winning by two runs.

GLYCERINE AND BARK PREVENT APPENDICITIS

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-Lika, astonishes Conneltsville people. Because Adler-Lika acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-Lika is astonishing. Very Sore and Face Was Very Disfigured.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My trouble started with pimples making their appearance all about my face, neck and body. The pimples were large and hard and were red and festering, also appearing with yellow heads. They were scattered and the skin was very sore and sometimes my face was very disfigured. "This lasted for about two months and I found my face getting worse, and I was treated and when this failed I gave up hope of being cured. I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I tried them and now I have not even a mark left on my face. I am healed." (Signed) Charles G. Davis, 1342 S. Back Yards

Little talks on health and hygiene by Miss M. D. D. at the Y. M. C. A. of Connellsville.

But Hart once wrote a story in which he pointed out that for a last night into the night a true character one must look at the back and not at the front of a man's house. Here was knowledge of human nature. If we want to estimate character accurately we must have an all around view and not accept face value.

This brings us again to the question of back yards. Is yours as clean and well kept as you can make it or is it littered with trash, can kindling or other rubbish? Is the garbage and waste properly covered and free from flies? Is the stable and out-house a fly breeding center for the neighborhood? You have work ahead of you for your health, and for the sake of decency if any of these conditions exist.

It is a privilege to have a back yard, even a small one. There are thousands of dwellers in cities where land is sold by the square foot, who yearn for a little space to call their own. Those who are so fortunate as to have back yards should care for them and make use of them.

If there are children in the family the back yard should be their playground. A well house, turning post, a swing or a tent will provide almost unlimited entertainment and help to keep children off the streets.

If there are no children in the family a shovel, a rake, a hoe and a moderate sized back yard should afford a reasonable amount of healthful exercise combined with pleasure and profit.

Discussing the St. Louis Convention.

At the top of the accompanying picture is a group of men at the St. Louis convention. The group shows L. Secretary McAdoo, 2, Senator William Jennings Bryan, who is not for the first time in many years either a delegate or an audience member at the convention. Bryan is shown in Chicago, Secretary Baker of the war department, who went to St. Louis. It is generally believed as the personal representative of President Wilson, Joseph E. Davies of the federal trade commission and until recently chairman of the commission, and Charles White the famous referee sergeant-at-arms of the convention.

WISE TO COMBINE

Coal Operators Can Place the Trade on Sound Basis by This Method.

Commenting on the suggestion of James E. Rodick, chief of the Department of Mines, that no new coal operators be started during the next five years with a view to controlling output and regulating prices, the American Coal Journal says:

"To combine together and act in mutual benefit show greater wisdom than to blindly and recklessly conduct a business with no other aim at end in view than to get ahead of the other fellow. Attention to self-interest is very vital and necessary at all times in business but experience teaches that a certain amount of co-operation even while competition is keen not only helps to maintain pleasant relations but is an alluring means of establishing trade on a sound basis and therefore more profitably. Study markets and full business the year round means more than unstable conditions and uncertainties, such as grow out of irregular or abnormal production."

Policy plus Performance

PROGRESS in the furnishing of public service depends on a clear common-sense policy plus a vigorously consistent performance.

The pioneers of the telephone set up as their goal a universal service and uniformity of policy, which policy, the same to-day, for

- 1—Service first of all the best that mind and machine can furnish.
- 2—Regulations that recognize every public and business requirement.
- 3—Straightforward, courteous treatment of every patron.
- 4—A force of employees who are well protected, zealous and loyal.
- 5—Keeping a step in advance of public demand in the extension of the service and system.

So much for purposes! They are mere words except when backed up by performances.

The Bell System stands to-day the greatest agency of wire communication in the entire world. In speed, accuracy and cordiality it has progressed with each new year and with each day of the year—better to-day than yesterday and with every energy bent toward a still further improvement to-morrow.

BELIEF PERSISTS THAT RIVAL ROAD IS MERELY A SCARE

To Frighten Off Promoters of New Wheeling & Eastern.

FINANCING PLAN OF LATTER

To Be Announced Next Week: Ample Capital Available: Work Likely to Commence Soon: A Possible Extension to Western Md. at Conneltsville.

The belief is persistent in certain quarters that the Wheeling Coal railroad, the competitor of the Wheeling & Eastern enterprise in Green county, is somewhat of a scare. F. A. Layman, railroad editor of the Pittsburgh Dispatch says that "there are indications that the project is not regarded seriously by either its ostensible promoters or the people of the section it would serve. Rather it is the belief that it is to be used merely as a bogey to scare off promoters of the Wheeling & Eastern railroad."

"Discovery has been made that the incorporation papers of the Wheeling & Eastern are in fact there is a prior claim to the name by a non-existent enterprise, and the necessary steps have been taken by the 'Wheeling' interests behind it to effect a remedy. To that end a meeting of interested parties has been called for June 15, when it is anticipated that not only will another designation be determined upon, but that the financing arrangements for the project will be made public."

"But enough is known in this connection already to warrant the statement that not only will ample capital be provided for the construction and equipment of the road, but that work thereon will have been begun before the summer. The proposed line from the Wheeling & Eastern railroad, the new road will be both easy and cheap of construction, the maximum grade being less than 1 per cent; while the tunneling to be done will be so little as to be quite negligible. Furthermore, the savings in freights that will accrue to the Wheeling Steel & Iron Company will aggregate in excess of $2,000,000 annually, whereas liberal estimates of construction and equipment costs are well within $5,000,000. "It may be assumed that, with a line built and in operation between Wheeling and Dam No. 6 on the Monongahela River, within 20 miles of Conneltsville, some interest, either the Western Maryland or the Wheeling & Lake Erie, or both together, will finance the construction of an extension to the first-mentioned line whereby a new and short line between Baltimore and the West would be achieved."

"In respect of the Wheeling Coal railroad, should it ever be built it will follow a direction much the same as that of the Wheeling & Eastern and serve much the same territory. Crossing the West Virginia panhandle in Waynesburg, this state, it would effect a junction with the rails of the Waynesburg & Washington branch of the Pennsylvania railway. This line, however, is narrow gauge, and because of the topography of the 25 miles of country it covers could only be standardized at enormous cost, gradients being heavy and curves many and sharp. Hence it is that the promoters of the Wheeling & Eastern project as nebulous at best, for they do not anticipate that the Pennsylvania, with the commitments it has made in other directions and which will require the outlay of millions of dollars within the next few years, will enter upon a construction program that would inevitably prove very costly and which, under the most favorable conditions, would return inadequate revenues."

A NEW SCHEDULE OF COAL RATES IS A PROBABILITY

Activity of Coal Consumers in Demands for Re-Adjustments, is Having Effect.

There is tremendous activity among the coal producers of Pennsylvania just now for the attainment of equitable freight rates. The latest to come openly into the field are the shippers from mines situated in Cambria, Indiana, Clearfield, Jefferson and adjoining counties, and they are going after what they want in a systematic and businesslike manner, without flub-dub or brass band attachments, but with facts, figures, comparisons, maps of territories covered, distances shipped, and all related data. In this way they are emulating the example set by the Conneltsville and other shippers, who made the bold declaration that they did not want favoritism, but equity of cost for equivalent service. In this they are much more likely to succeed than by taking a belligerent attitude and going first before the several regulatory commissions, says a correspondent of The Coal Trade Journal.

There is a whisper that much is to be gained by this attitude, and that when facts and figures, maps and charts were presented to the magnitude of the big roads that serve them, they made a strong impression, basing their arguments on justice, quantity of business furnished, cost of the service in comparisons, diversion possibilities, and all coordinate matters. It may be said, therefore, that a new schedule of freight rates is a probability for all coal and coke producing districts of Western Pennsylvania at the end of this coal trade year.

It is not impertinent to mention, in this connection, that the announcement that a new and independent short line from the upper Monongahela river valley to Wheeling and connection there with the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad has had a marked influence on the more patient attitude of the railroad magnates when their shippers have gone to them with claims for equitable rates as compared with rivals.

TO BUILD MODEL MINE

University Will Make Installation For Experimental Purposes.

A model coal and metal mine for experimental purposes, the only thing of its kind in the United States and the second in the world, will be installed at Ohio State University during the summer. The proposed mine will be 315 feet long and 228 feet wide and will be used as a laboratory for the students in the department of mining engineering and metallurgy. "The mine will be 60 feet below the surface, as it is planned to go down to the strata between the Delaware and Columbus limestones. The mine will be divided into two parts, one to be devoted to the study of coal mining and the other to the study of metal mining. Within it will be installed drills, cutting machines, mine cars, apparatus for mine rescue work and a full equipment of mine machinery."

NON-GASEOUS MINES

To Receive More Rigid Inspections, Says Chief Roderick.

Discussing the inspection of mines for gas Chief Roderick of the State Department of Mines, announced a few days ago that a more rigid inspection will be required, especially of those that are supposedly non-gaseous. "We are not confining our best efforts to the mines that are known or believed to be gaseous, however," said Chief Roderick. "We are giving thorough attention to the mines that we do not think gaseous. It is rather queer that the worst disasters of the past two years have occurred in mines that were not thought to be gaseous. For this reason all mines will be thoroughly inspected. We will give just a little more attention to this line of work."

MAY NOT BUILD ARMOR PLANT

Thought That Secretary Daniels Will Change His Mind on the Plan.

There is a growing impression that Secretary of the Navy Daniels will not proceed with the construction of a government armor plate plant but instead will use the power the act places in his hands to force the manufacturers of armor plate down in their prices.

His are soon to be received for the plate needed for the war vessels to be built next year. In the event armor manufacturers find it possible to offer prices substantially below those submitted in the past, it has been suggested that Secretary Daniels might find in this a reason to back down on his government owned plant plan.

SAFETY LAMP ANNIVERSARY

English Miners Preparing to Celebrate Davy's Great Invention.

Miners of the north of England this year celebrate the centenary of the introduction of the Davy safety lamp. It was on January 10, 1816, that the "miners' guardian angel" was first introduced into any pit.

Sir Humphrey Davy's invention was really the outcome of the terrible calamity at Pelling collier, County Durham, on May 25, 1815, when 32 miners were killed and many injured. Davy began his experiments in the autumn of 1815, with one wire gauze as an "explosive stove," and on January 10, 1816, the first lamp was tried by a hardy band of pioneers in the workhouse of Huddersfield colliery. The actual lamp is now a treasure in the Geological museum in London.

Headlight Flashes

New cars seen about the yards have attracted much comment. They are the new type of hopper-dump cars and were built by the Pressed Steel Car Company for the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific railroad. They were sent into this region to be loaded with coke for a copper mining company at Black Eagle, Montana, before being sent to the B. A. & P. In this connection it is interesting to note that coke is much used in Montana and Colorado by the smelting concerns.

THE FUTURE OF STEEL WILL DEPEND LARGELY ON PRICES

Railroads Not Disposed to Pay High Prices Now Asked; Structural Demand Is Rather Light.

One way to measure prospects for steel demand after the war is to consider the cases in which market conditions are now preventing a demand from being expressed, says The American Metal Market. A notorious case is that of the railroads, which after having been fairly free buyers for months are now buying practically nothing. There is no indication that their requirements have decreased. It being a matter simply of prices and deliveries. The railroads are not disposed to pay the extremely high prices now being asked. Structural demand is also light, mills reporting that there is practically an entire absence of demand against projects that would represent a regular investment, the only structural buying of consequence being for work extensions. In these two directions, therefore, one may expect a heavy banked-up demand to be expressed as soon as conditions become more or less settled after the war.

The demand for steel of late has been chiefly for steel for ordinary current consumption, in sheets, tin plates, tubular goods, etc. This demand is to be attributed largely to the fact that the country has become prosperous. As the prosperity is caused by the capital we have acquired through heavy exports, the capital existing in credit balances, the foreign loan floated here, our securities held abroad, re-purchased at moderate prices, etc., the prosperity may reasonably be expected to continue after the war, resulting in continued heavy demand for steel for ordinary consumptive purposes.

Much has been said about export demand for steel, but after all the prospects for domestic demand are much more certain than the prospects for export demand. The domestic market is easily several times more important than the export, in any case.

All the indications are that the steel market will be quiet in the next few months, at least as regards domestic buying. In the past few weeks there has been much heavier export demand and this may serve to liven up somewhat a market that otherwise promises to be rather dull and featureless for a time.

S TILL BREAKING RECORDS

blast Furnace Output Continues to Increase from Month to Month.

The blast furnaces of the country, having acquired the habit of setting new production records months ago, find the custom difficult to break, says The Iron Trade Review. Despite the fact that the number of incoming stacks continues to dwindle, the May production of coke and anthracite pig iron was the highest ever made in any month. The output in May was 3,363,926 tons, compared with 2,225,496 tons in April, a gain of 1,138,430 tons. March, which had held the previous record, was surpassed by 36,000 tons. The record set in April for average daily production held the top position for only one month. The average daily production in May was 108,514 tons, against 107,517 tons in April, a gain of 997 tons.

THIRD BASE IS EASIEST TO STEAL

So Says Ty Cobb, and He Ought to Know.

SECOND IS THE HARDEST.

Manager Herzog of the Cincinnati Reds States Player Is Able to Get Long Lead Off Bag No. 2, Which Shortens Distance Between Bags.

Is it easier to steal third base than second?

Ty Cobb insists it is easier to steal third. The "Georgia Peach" is not quite sure why it is easier, but believes it is because he is able to get a larger lead from second. Charley Herzog, who is not only an excellent base runner, but has played third, shortstop and second, handling throws intended to stop base stealers, does not agree with Cobb as to the reason, but admits it is the easiest bag to pilfer.

As it is the same distance between second and third as it is between first and second, with the catcher having the advantage of making a shorter throw, it would seem that Cobb's argument is correct, but Herzog blames the number of steals of third base on the men playing the bag. The Cincinnati manager admits that a base runner can get a better lead off second than he can when on first base, but he points out that the runner has two men, both of whom are behind him, to watch and who "hold him" to the keystone sack, which makes his lead off second no greater than a clever man will get from first base.

Herzog argues that the throw to second is longer, and the catcher invariably throws to a moving man. It is the custom of major league catchers to throw the ball about two feet to the left of second base if the shortstop is covering, so that the fielder can take the ball while on the run and be in perfect condition to tag the runner. If the ball is thrown to the right of the bag the fielder is invariably unable to stop, and a runner sliding to the front of the bag can escape him. In throwing the ball the second baseman is covering the backstop along to the right side of the bag. If he throws to the left or straight over the bag the second baseman in covering would either be forced to overrun the bag or reach over for the ball and then come back the other way to tag the runner, lessening his chances of getting him.

Herzog claims that Cobb finds it easier to steal third base because the baseman must have the ball before Cobb is within ten feet of the bag or he will find it almost impossible to tag him, as he must turn completely around after taking the throw. He adds that there are few third basemen in the game today who do not fear the runner's spikes on a steal, and the majority are out of position when they receive the catcher's throw.

After watching some third stealers miss Cobb line and again when the throw arrives soon enough to have retired the Detroit marvel easily, one is inclined to believe that Herzog is right. There are many highly rated third basemen who are almost helpless with a runner stealing, particularly if the batsman is able enough to bluff a bait when the steal is coming off.

It was charged that a man who recently fought there was sold out by one of his fellows. It was this action that caused a change in the rules. Now they are talking of eliminating the rule which causes a contestant to be disqualified if a second jumps into the ring.

The heart of a loving woman is a soft, warm, where often there is a cold, hard, steel.

Adopt New Boxing Rule.

Australians Will Not Permit Seconds to Stop Fights.

They've inaugurated a new boxing rule in Australia, which says that the losing of a towel or sponge to save a man is not to be recognized. The Australians deemed the more necessary, since it prevents seconds from throwing in the towel when a man is really able to go on.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE.

At the Great Neck (N. Y.) Golf club the prime movers are not missing a trick in an endeavor to keep the organization up to date in every way, yet, sad to relate, the best things a-links are not always appreciated. There is one green, No. 3, quite attractive in its undulations, with a dip here and a rise there, calculated to make the player study the line of his putt with more than ordinary care. In fact, the club feels quite proud of this green. The other day, however, in rushed one of the new members with the following declaration:

"That third green is terrible!"

"How is it terrible?" some one asked.

"Why," replied Mr. New Member, "it isn't level. They never will be able to flatten it out."

CATCHER A FORTRESS IN MODERN REGALIA

Catchers are protected by all sorts and manners of armor. They have masks, mitts, chest protectors and bands on their shins to shield them from foul tips. In only one place are they liable to injury. This is their neck. Occasionally a foul hits them there and the injury is not only unusually painful but dangerous.

Jack Lapp, now catcher of the White Sox, was struck there some years ago and for days it was feared he had lost the power of speech. Even today his voice is not what it was before he was hurt.

Lapp has tried all sorts of contrivances to protect his neck, but in no instance have they proved practicable. A man who comes along with a real idea will be welcomed by the vast army of backstoppers.

Sometimes a mask breaks under the shock of a foul tip, and more than one catcher has narrowly escaped having his eye permanently injured. Some backstops, like Billy Sullivan, consider their mask, but this makes it so heavy it becomes a burden.

Catching is, in short, some job. He not only has to give signals, watch every move on the bases, jolly his pitcher and block runners off the plate, even though it means danger from spikes, but he is so loaded down by equipment that he is a walking fortress.

GROH BEST THIRD BASEMAN.

Cincinnati Reds' Peppy Last Season Has No Superior in Position.

"If there is a better third baseman in the big leagues than Holms Groh of the Cincinnati Reds I have not seen him this season," said a veteran player recently. Groh, once a member of the New York Giants, covered second base

when the Cincinnati club first obtained him from McGraw, and he was a big success too. But Herzog moved him over to third with even better results. Groh is quick in handling slow hits and has a great throwing arm. He also can pick the ball and skip around the bases as fast as chain lightning.

BILLY SULLIVAN BOASTS OF NO BROKEN DIGITS

With more than a score of years behind him, most of it in the big leagues, Billy Sullivan never has had a broken finger or thumb, a record that might be backbones of his experience can point to.

The veteran has handled all sorts of pitchers, including apaches, who are the bane of the average catcher's life. In about 1,200 league games, and that he has not received a fracture of one of his digits is almost as noteworthy as though he had charged a battery of machine guns and escaped without a wound.

Pool tips by the thousand have come Billy's way, and he has been battered and bruised and bumped all over. He has suffered a dislocated thumb or two and has lost a finger nail now and then, but his bones are just as good as they ever were.

Instead of presenting a right hand that looks as though it had been stepped on by an elephant and repaired by a freshman medical student, when he "mills you" Bill extends a jaw that has no disfigurements to speak of. No one ever would suspect by glancing at it that it was being presented by a catcher so old in the service that he could have retired from the game a long while ago.

GRAND CIRCUIT SOON TO OPEN

BANNER SEASON PREDICTED

With All Best Harnessed Horses Competing, Some New Records May Be Looked Forward To—Tommy Murphy Out For Record in Purse.

With the opening of the grand circuit only a short time off the prospects of the Poughkeepsie wizard, Tom Murphy, sweeping the platter in the rich trotting stakes of the big ring do not look as bright as they did at the same time in 1915, yet advices from the training camp on the banks of the historic Hudson are to the effect that his two most prominent candidates for these events are coming along nicely in their work, and as both showed themselves to be right-hand 2:35 trotters last season, Murphy must be considered a dangerous factor. Of course Peter Mac, with a mile officially to his credit in 2:03%, is the most highly tried trotter ever to be stalked through the big ring, while Mabel Tansk, the smooth going chestnut mare, which "Long Shot" Cox drove a trial mile in 2:04%, is another which is enjoying early season favoritism over the pair from the Murphy stable.

Last season Murphy had the $30,000 Peter Scott as his dependence for the rich plums of the major circuit, and the rough going, buildy trotter was the one picked by the majority of the critics to lead the money winners, which he did, and set a record for money winners for future generations to shoot at.

The pair upon which Murphy places his main reliance in the stakes this summer are Trampright (2:08%) and Vanko (2:06%), both seasoned race horses, which have been tried and not found wanting in the grand circuit crucible. The former was but a four-year-old last season and won several races for Murphy on the big ring—in fact, he won all of his starts, and, curiously enough, he took his best record in a heat in which he defeated by a head his now stable companion, Vanko. The colt was raced over the half mile tracks in 1914 and took a record of 2:09% in a trial against the watch.

After Trampright won at Columbus last fall Murphy decided not to start him again, not desiring to take a chance of getting him out of his class. However, at Lexington, he gave him the acid test against the watch, the youngster going to the half 1:04% and finishing the mile in 2:05 flat, the last half in 1:00%. On another occasion he trotted a quarter in 0:23%, which shows that he has that always necessary "lick," one of the prime essentials of a successful race horse. He is a small horse, but stout made, and made but one break in his 1915 races.

Racing on the half mile tracks is now on. The rule passed last winter by the American Trotting association whereby records taken at meetings up to and including the week of July 4 do not affect eligibility should help these early meetings. June should be one of the best racing months in the year, not only on the minor tracks, but the grand circuit should be in full swing before July 1.

The adoption of the three heat system of racing would be a great help to early training, as a trainer, in starting a horse short of work, would know just how many heats he would have to race. Under the old three in five system he might race three and he might be required to keep at it from noon until dark. At Tiffin last year, before the opening of the grand circuit, a field of pacers raced nine heats, the race being stretched out over a period of three afternoons, if one remembers rightly. That was a case of "improving the breed of horses" with a vengeance.

The following table shows the total amount already offered for features from the opening to the close of the circuit at Lexington for trotters and pacers, while it sweeps the actual amount of added moneys are only given:

	Trot.	Pace.	Sweeps.
Cleveland	$2,000	$2,000	$1,500
Detroit	15,000	7,000	5,000
Kalamazoo	10,000	5,000	1,000
Grand Rapids	5,000	5,000	500
Columbus	10,000	5,000	1,000
Cleveland	5,000	5,000	500
Poughkeepsie	15,000	5,000	500
Hartford	11,000	3,000	500
Syracuse	10,000	5,000	2,000
Columbus (2 weeks)	25,000	10,000	500
Lexington (2 weeks)	17,000	4,000	500
Totals	$133,000	$87,000	$7,500

It will be seen that the total amount for straight closing purse events for trotters and pacers is $208,000. At the lowest estimate the sum of $10,000 will be added to this for late closing events during the latter weeks of the line of march, thus making the grand total of $338,000 for the entire program, not counting the addition at Hartford for half milers and the amount to be yet announced from Atlanta, which will surely make the grand total not less than $400,000.

TIGERS WANT MITCHELL.

Detroit Club Believes Cleveland Twirl-or Would Make Star Man.

Willie Mitchell of the Cleveland team is wanted by Detroit. The Tigers believe that Mitchell would make a good pitcher for them and that he is not showing the form he is capable of with the Indians, where he has been too long.

There is but little probability of the Tigers getting Mitchell, however. The southpaw is showing more stuff in practice over since he learned that the club wants to get rid of him, and he may be given another chance.

HOW ONE CAN SUCCEED IN GOLF

Keep Your Eye and Mind on the Shot.

CONCENTRATION ESSENTIAL

In Fact It Is the Keynote and Ultimate Step to Success—Walter J. Travis a Taciturn Man—Always Believes He Is Not There to Be Beaten.

In golf more than any other form of sport the contestant must keep his thoughts on the matter in hand. Concentration is the keynote and the ultimate step to success. Can it be imagined that a billiard player is not focusing the whole of his mind on the shot to be played or that a sprinter is going to look back fifty yards from the tape to see who is closest to him? It is hardly probable.

Why, then, should the golfer in this hardest matter of all permit his thoughts to wander from that supreme state of centering his mind on the ball and on that alone? Golf often has been called an unseemly game, and it is true that to play it well requires a certain degree of abstraction from anything that tends to remove the mind from the game.

A more taciturn man than Walter J. Travis has seldom been seen on the links. He takes the stand that when a man is playing a match he is not there to be beaten, but to put forth his utmost efforts to win, and as a means to this end he cannot allow himself to be distracted by any outside factor. It is a result of his intense concentration. He goes right ahead and thinks of nothing but the game with a mental state of deep seriousness and determination. Many others might be mentioned who take the same stand, among them Jerome D. Travors. Perhaps one of the contributing reasons to Chick Evans' chronic scintillating habit is this matter of too much sociability. He permits his mind to be removed from some of his shots by mixing too much with the spectators.

It is not possible to top a ball body if the eyes are not removed from the sphere. Many times the concentration is so intense that the desire to follow the flight of the ball is evicted a fraction of a second too soon, and in that infinitesimal time the stroke is ruined.

If the player would remember that it does no harm to watch the spot where the ball was and that he has a candle to follow the ball he would not top so many, either from the tee or through the green. Especially in a bunker must the player devote all his mind to getting out. The usual tendency is to look up, probably induced by anxiety or the abnormal difficulty of lie. Again the player should never forget that the essence of success in the stroke is keeping the eye and mind on the shot. In this case, however, the eye should be kept on the sand an inch behind the ball.

Indian Member of Strategy Board.

Chief Bender is a member of Pat Moran's board of strategy. He is spending much time on the coaching lines trying to detect the opposing battery signals. Bender, according to Connie Mack, is one of the smartest players in the profession, and Moran probably had this fact in mind when he decided to engage the crafty Indian.

UNFORTUNATE LENIENCY.

"Bank O'Day is the best man who ever handled an indicator during my time in the National league," says Charlie Deola. "I have always found him ready to listen patiently to any protests I might have to make when I think he has missed a strike, and he has never put me out of a game. However, I wish that he had done so on one occasion. One day in 1914 I kicked so strenuously on one decision he made that he was about to banish me. He let me stay in there and a few innings later I broke my leg."

BUSH CLASSY SHORTSTOP.

Manager Jennings Says Owsie Is Best in Business.

Hugh Jennings is hot under the collar. The cause is easily explained. Recently several baseball experts sent out stories about the classy shortstops in the American and National leagues and

SPOT FURNACE COKE BECOMES EASIER WITH OFFERINGS AT $2.50 AND LOWER

Change is Due to Shrinkage in Demand for Coke Region Coal.

CONTRACTS FOR SECOND HALF

Closed at $2.65, with Others Under Negotiation: Foundry Coke Quiet But Prices Well Maintained at $2.25 as the Minimum for Spot Shipment.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
PITTSBURGH, June 14.—Spot furnace coke is easier this week, there being offerings at $2.50 and sometimes at $2.40. Sales were made even on Monday at $2.40, involving a limited tonnage. Throughout last week the market was firm at $2.75, with sales nearly every day at that figure.
The change in position is generally attributed to the disappearance of demand for coal from the Lower Connecticut region. While the strike in the Pittsburgh coal district is not settled more miners have returned to work and fully one-third the capacity of the union mines is in operation, while the non-union fields in the district are working hard. There are free offerings of West Virginia coal at $2.00, delivered, and that price might even be shaded. Consumers have not been buying coal this week, as their purchases of last week, at rather fancy prices, will carry them through this week and the balance of probability is that more miners will return to work. What is on the minds of the miners is being more clearly developed as they are making efforts to dispose their local officials, who they claim have sold them out.

Negotiations on furnace coke contracts for the second half of the year are in progress. Two contracts have been closed already, one at the reported price of $2.53, for about 20, 000 tons a month of a good grade of coke, the other being for a smaller tonnage at about the same price.
The asking price of the operators has been quite uniform at $2.75 but consumers show no great disposition to pay this figure, and this week's decline in the spot market has not improved the situation from the seller's standpoint. It is understood that the operators making the recent sales at a trifle under $2.75 did not with the idea that this might start the ball rolling and enable them to be stiffer in negotiations for additional tonnages, but some buyers are holding out rather firmly for a $2.50 price.
Contracts already closed this year, at various times, have been at prices ranging from $2.50 to $3.00.

The foundry coke market is relatively quiet but prices are very well maintained. The minimum on standard foundry coke for spot or prompt shipment is $3.25, with $3.50 asked by some operators and not infrequently obtained for favorite brands.
The contract market stands firm at $3.50, where it has been since the first contracts were closed a couple months ago. The market as a whole is now quotable as follows:

Spot furnace	$2.40-$2.50
Contract furnace	$2.50-$2.75
Spot foundry	$3.25-$3.50
Contract foundry	$3.50

The local pig iron market continues to mark time so far as domestic demand is concerned. There is only an occasional inquiry for Bessemer or basic, while inquiry for additional tonnage, although more numerous, involve only very small lots, generally carloads to 100 tons. The furnaces are standing quite firmly on previous quotations and show no disposition whatever to shade prices in order to encourage a movement. The usual asking price on basic iron is $18.50, Valley, and the keeneest buyers find they can beat the quotation down to $18.25, but not a cent below that figure.

There is continued demand for Bessemer iron for export and it is believed in some quarters that the selling for export will be actually absorption of tonnage of Bessemer, as to cause furnaces now operating on basic to shift to Bessemer, thus decreasing basic supplies and advancing the market. There is nothing in the domestic trade at the moment that would suggest a prospective advance.
The market is quotable as follows:

Bessemer	$21.00
Basic	$18.50
Maleable	$18.25
No. 2 foundry	$18.50
Gray iron	$18.00

These prices are for Valley furnaces, prices delivered Pittsburgh being higher by the 5-cent freight.

COAL AND COKE TONNAGE

Of Both Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio Roads Increases.

Shipments of coal over the Pennsylvania railroad during the first four months of 1916 were 15,598,410, compared with 13,203,746, an increase of 3,394,664 tons, or 25.7 per cent. Coke tonnage for the same period increased 1,796,489 tons, or 57.2 per cent, while anthracite shipments increased 357, 639 tons, or 10.7 per cent.

Shipments over the Baltimore & Ohio during the same period were 10,647,145 tons, an increase of 1,192, 808 tons, or 25.9 per cent, compared with tonnage carried during the corresponding period of last year. Coke tonnage increased 516,965 tons, or 61.7 per cent.

120 TON COAL CARS

To be Built for Service on the Lines of the Virginian Railway.

The Virginian Railway is having specifications prepared for a 120-ton coal car, which, with the usual margin for overload, will be capable of carrying about 130 net tons.

The largest coal cars now in use are some owned by the Norfolk & Western Railway, which have a rated capacity of 90 net tons, and can carry about 100 tons.

Furnace Relighted.

The Keystone blast furnace of the Reading Iron Company at Reading, has been relighted after a several months' idleness.

COKE TRADE SUMMARY.

The Connelville coke operators have been doing an excellent coal business on the side for a couple of weeks past. The demand developed during this first week in this month, when some 30,000 tons were shipped out. This was not unusual. Last week, however, the demand became acute on account of the strike of the Pittsburgh district miners, and threatened to seriously curtail some of the supply. The Lower Connelville region shipped some 45,000 tons of coke during the week ending at the mine equivalent they say to $2.75-$2.85 coke at the ovens.
In consequence of this shipment of coke from the Connelville region last week dropped down to 40,000 tons, a recession of 22,000 tons as compared with the previous week. Production more than kept pace. The region operated ostensibly six days, but very few merchant owners made more than five day runs.
There were a number of changes among the merchant owners making a net of about 10,000 tons of coke in the region. The interest now operates but 85% of its ovens as against 90% for the former interest. There is in good supply, but the labor situation is becoming bad again owing to the appearance of this week of a couple of Russian religious festivals.

STEEL TRADE LESS FEVERISH AND ACTIVE THAN FORMERLY

Export Demand Continues Heavy, War Orders Still Playing an Important Part in the Bookings.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
NEW YORK, June 14.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

Reports of decided activity are mixed with reports of extreme dullness in the steel trade as there is a great divergence in the degree of activity in different directions. Whatever of dullness there is in the market is emphasized by contrast with the feverish activity prevailing earlier in the year.
Export demand continues heavy, both from the allied belligerents and from neutral countries. War orders played an important part in enabling the Steel Corporation to show a gain of 108,247 tons during May in its unfilled obligations, as there was booked 300,000 tons of steel in the month, and it is possible that the order for 175,000 tons of bar wire for Russia, only reported this week, was included in last month's bookings.

The large mills are closing a moderate amount of contract business in bars, plates and shapes. These are written, as a rule, for fourth quarter, although deliveries would probably be in first quarter, the object being to secure specifications from buyers in ample time. Premiums for early delivery continue in the case of plates, but shapes and bars can usually be picked up for early shipment at regular mill prices and occasionally induced from mill stocks.

The continued easing up in the unfinished steel market is being exaggerated in some quarters. Regular soft steel is not obtainable at less than $40 to $42 for either prompt or forward delivery. Discards arising in the manufacture of shell steel are accumulating, as the steel can be used only for certain purposes, and it is possible that the mills as a whole are now carrying a quarter million tons.
Southern pig iron has weakened a trifle but the northern markets are steadily although far from active.
There is continued demand for Bessemer for export and the movement is expected to stiffen if not advance the Valley market.

BY-PRODUCT MARKET

Benzol is Firmer at a Slight Advance; Sulphate of Ammonia Quiet.

Lessened re-selling of benzol has firmed up the spot price, and 75 cents a gallon now is the minimum quotation of the most important sellers, against 70 cents a week ago. A little contracting is going on steadily at unchanged prices.

Inquiries for tutol for delivery over the remainder of the year continue more numerous. These inquiries come both from foreign and domestic buyers. Domestic manufacturers of explosives who are figuring upon new contracts with European governments are in the market. One negotiation of this kind now active represents a need of over 10,000,000 gallons. Spot tutol now is quoted on a flat basis of $4.75 a gallon. The tendency in solvent naphtha is toward increased demand with the free supply limited.
Buyers and sellers of sulphate of ammonia still are staying away from one another in maneuvering for prices on annual contracts, and no business of this kind has been closed. The market is very quiet as the demand for nearby shipment is small.

Increases Oven Capacity.
The Colonial Iron Company, Riddles-burg, Pa., has under construction 15 additional beehive ovens to its plant, which is operated in connection with the company's blast furnace. This will increase the coke plant to 214 ovens.

New Steel Company.
The Penn Iron & Steel Company has been incorporated with a capital of $50,000 by P. A. Stuart, Cheswick, Pa., and J. Milholland and L. M. Ryan of Pittsburgh.

Shipbuilders Threaten Strike.
A general strike among the ship yards of the country is threatened in the near future.
